Days of Barefoot Fun By Phyllis Thumm

Diamonds in the river,
Sparkling in the sun;
Minnows gently gliding,
Barefoot days of fun.

Apples getting mellow
On transparent trees;
Sought by eager hands,
Loosed by summer's breeze.

Hollyhocks are blooming
Outside the garden wall;
Standing there like soldiers,
Trim and neat and tall.

In the summer sunshine
Children jump and run;
Carefree hours of pleasure,
Days of barefoot fun.

In the field of clover,
Busy little bees
Fill each hour with labor,
While we take our ease.

Far off in the distance,
Hear the rain dove's call;
Plaintively he warns us,
Showers soon shall fall.

Fireflies light the evening
When the day is done;
Drowsy eyes are closing
On days of barefoot fun.

August is Happy Month

We all enjoy being around a happy person. A joyful spirit is contagious.

Music makes the World go around.

Come have fun at the Wayne Senior Center

“ The Meaning of Birthday Celebrations “
12:45p.m., Friday, August 30th
Make your meal reservation early.

Remember a happy heart is that which is content with little things-the heart that loves the simple life, the heart from which there springs a sense of joy with each fresh day– a prayer of gratitude-for the morning miracle of health and strength renewed. We wish you happiness on your next birthday.

Sometimes we wander where happiness lies.

We search for it,

Yearn for it

Year after year,

And come back to find it

Awaiting us here...

In the warm clasp of friendship,

The light of a smile...
