When Papa Was a Boy

By E.A. Brininstool

When papa was a little boy
You really couldn't find
In all the country round about
A child so quick to mind.
His mother never called but once,
And he was always there;
He never made the baby cry
Or pulled his sister's hair.
He never slid down banisters
Or made the slightest noise,
And never in his life was known to fight with other boys.
He always rose at six o'clock
And went to bed at eight,
And never lay abed till noon,
And never sat up late.

He finished Latin, French and Greek
When he was ten years old,
And knew the Spanish alphabet
As soon as he as told.
He never, never thought of play
until his work was done,
He labored hard from break of day
Until the set of sun.
He never scraped his muddy shoes
Upon the parlor floor,
And never banged the door.
"But truly, I could never see,"
Said little Dick Molloy,
"How he could never do these things
And really be a boy."
