A Mother's Love is:

A mother is ... different From anything else that God ever thought of....
She is a distinct and individual creation. By Henry Ward Beecher

When Mama smiled,
beautiful as her face
was, it grew incomparably more lovely, and everything around seemed brighter.

A Little Red Rose

By Garnett Ann Schultz

A little red rose in my garden grew
As fragrant and fair as the dawn,
Refreshed by the rain and the morning air,
A treasure to gaze upon.
Sprinkled with dewdrops and kissed by the sun,
Just growing so straight and so tall,
Proud in its glory, more beautiful still
As I watch from the garden wall.

Blooming in springtime when April is here,
Perfect and lovely in June,
Smiling in daytime and sparkling at night
Beneath heaven's shining full moon.
A little red rose in my garden stayed
Till springtime and summer were done,
Into September, so dear to me yet
More mature in the late autumn sun.

Just faded a little, and not quite so firm,
Drooping its bright glowing head,
A little less fragrant, a little less sweet
And not quite as shining and red.
A petal now falls on the garden path
And I find it has withered with time,
But still it's as fair as it ever has been,
As dear to this heart of mine.

A little red rose in my garden lives
Though it's covered with winter time's snow,
It can't ever die for it's blooming still
And nothing can change it, I know,
Always as precious, as shining and bright,
Looking to heaven above,
And here in my heart it will never die-
That little red rose that I love.

A Day at the Lake

*by Lake Ponte Villa, Storm Lake, IA
Grab me a rod, remember the reel,
I already know how this day will feel.
I'll stop at the shack and grab me some bait.
This day of fishing, it's going to be great!
I can already picture the calm of the lake;
I hope a few fish, will just take the bait!
There's nothing more relaxing than fishing today.
Throwing out my reel, and casting my cares away.*

Thank you everyone for your thoughts and prayers.
