

Hello Revitalize Wayne Members,

It's official! The City of Wayne now has recycling bins in our downtown area. Five blue recycling bins have been installed next to existing garbage bins on Main Street and in front of the City Auditorium to recycle aluminum cans, plastic bottles and paper. Cans and bottles should be empty of all liquids and paper should be clean, with no food or food contact.

Two keys to encouraging people to recycle is to (1) place recycling bins next to garbage cans, and (2) have clear labels indicating what to recycle. The steel recycling bins were manufactured locally in Nebraska by Behlen Manufacturing and match our existing garbage bins. The side labels were ordered through Recycle Across America, which has started a national movement to standardized recycling labels. The top lid labels were designed and installed by local graphic designer Heidi Claussen. The bins were funded in part from the Nebraska State Recycling Association and the Nebraska Environmental Trust.

The Wayne Green Team has worked on this project for several years and is thankful for the partnership with our community to make it happen. Offering these recycling bins in public areas with high traffic supports our goal to become a Zero Waste Community. Thank you to all for your support!
